I. Call to Order and Approval of Agenda

The meeting was called to order and a motion was made, seconded and carried to approve the agenda with flexibility and the addition of Action Item D at 11:35 a.m.

II. Approval of Minutes

The minutes of August 11, 2020 were approved as written.

III. President’s Report – Joan Sholars – No Report

A. Evaluations – There is no agreement between the District and the FA regarding Evaluations. The District believes that there are many faculty who are not responding to students (or responding to managers) and evaluations are the only way to fix that. The District also believes that we faculty are ready to be evaluated in this strange new mode of teaching in which we find ourselves. While the FA disagrees with the District that faculty are ready to be evaluated, without any kind of agreement, the faculty contract stands. This means evaluations are currently a go as written in the contract. This will entail more work by the department chairs as well as the District. The FA goal is to protect faculty as much as we can. Is it possible to really make these evaluations about improvement and not about consequences? Not all faculty are prepared and secure in their online teaching. In fact, many professors will be happy to never teach online again when this pandemic is over. Do we throw them out because they do not meet the standards arbitrarily set by another group of administrators and faculty? Or do we try to help them? Give them advice and help mentor them to be better while they are teaching online? These evaluations could really hurt our adjunct faculty and our probationary faculty. The District has put in a lot of time and money into these faculty but is now willing to let them go without a second glance. Our students deserve the best but our faculty deserve the time and consideration to fix what is perceived to be wrong. There does seem to be agreement between the District and the FA regarding not evaluating 2nd year probationary faculty.

B. Office Hours – The District and the FA signed a side letter during the summer concerning office hours. For full time faculty, one of your office hours is to be synchronous – let your students and the department/division office know. The other office hours can be either synchronous or asynchronous but let students know that you will answer email within 48 hours (except for weekends). For our adjunct faculty, you are only paid for one office hour a week which is to be held synchronously. These office hours must be reported to students and the division office. According to the side letter, the definitions used for synchronous and asynchronous office hours are: Asynchronous – nonscheduled office hours spent throughout the week directly responding to students via email or other communication tools. Synchronous – scheduled office hours spent throughout the week directly responding to students via email or other communication tool. Synchronous office hours and “by appointment” meetings can be conducted via email, video, campus phone connection, or other communication tool that allows for immediate, synchronous response. If possible, faulty should conduct synchronous office hours via video. If possible, faculty should offer students the option of conducting “by appointment” meetings via video. Department chair office hours should look similar. One hour a week is to be held synchronously with the other hours either held synchronously or asynchronously. Inform the department faculty and the division of your hours.

C. Calling in Sick – If you are teaching your class synchronously and you are feeling sick and cannot teach your class for that day or hold your scheduled synchronous office hour, you must notify the division office. If you are teaching your class asynchronously and you are feeling sick, you do not need to notify the division office as you are not missing class. If your synchronous office hour also falls on this day though, you must notify the division that you cannot meet your scheduled office hour. If you are teaching on campus, you will call in sick the way you would during a normal semester.

D. Coming on Campus – If you need to come on campus for any reason, you must contact your dean/associate dean or appropriate manager.

E. Negotiations – The District and the FA have been spending valuable negotiation time working on the side letters due to COVID19. Thus our negotiations for this year have been stalled. The District is working on a proposal now for Article 18: Evaluations. The FA made a proposal on Article 27: Safety and is working on a response to the District’s proposal on Article 13: Distance Learning and to the District’s response on Article 9: Calendar. The District will also have a response to the FA’s counter proposal on Article 2: Term of Agreement. The District will be presenting soon on Article 7: Salaries and Article 8: Health Benefits.

F. Request for Students to Keep Video On – Many faculty have requested that students keep their videos on while conducting synchronous instruction. Our lawyers have stated that we cannot force our students to keep their video on. Students are having issues with bandwidth and WiFi.

A. Social Injustice Issues – Former Resolution – On April 5, 2016, the FA Representative Council passed a resolution to not support the presence of a Campus Police Department. Students at the last BoT meeting expressed concerns about the Campus Police carrying firearms and that during these times of social injustice, should the FA bring this resolution back and/or possibly strengthen it? After discussion, the Executive Board decided to take this to the September 1, 2020 Representative Council to see if we want to reaffirm our position.

Time did not allow for reports from CTA SCOne, FPDC, Governance Committee, and PGI. Chisa Uyeki from Academic Senate thanked Lance Heard for a great FLEX Day! Chisa stated that the Senate has committee openings and to be looking for an email with a list coming soon. She encouraged faculty to work on DL Amendments and submit them as soon as possible. Luisa Howell, CCA Director J representative, announced that there will be a meeting this weekend.
